ABOUT ME

Efficient. Adaptive. Innovative. I am a good communicator with a powerful drive to create. I take pride in acquiring new skills. I take charge and put myself in opportunities to improve both in my personal and work life.

I've always had a connection to the latest technology. The internet and all things gadget. Starting off with a YouTube channel in late 2008. I started using Photoshop and Sony Vegas Pro. I now get to look at all the great apps on the market and have a chance to make a real world impact and work on the next big thing.

KEY SKILLS & ACHIEVEMENTS

- Personable – Working as salesman for years. Making a difference in someone's day is a deep passion of mine be it small or large.
- Leadership – Taking ownership is a big thing for me. Leading and watching a team succeed is something to take great pride in.
- Problem Solver – Whenever I encounter a problem in my life my first thought is to pause and think. I will often take it as my responsibility to teach myself a new skill if necessary.
- Co-operation – Working in a group of 5. We worked on a chat app using React.js. I used front-end technologies to style and bring to life the application.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Junior Developer @ Code Nation

Jan 2019 – Apr 2019

Learning to code in a work-like environment. Starting at 9:30am till 17:30pm we would spend the day working in teams learning cooperation or working solo, making websites and API applications and practicing all the skills a full stack developer needs. The course teaches much needed problem solving skills and the ability to self teach.

PPI Complaint Officer @ M&S Bank

Feb 2017 – Feb 2019

In this customer service role, I would gather information from the customer or their respective claims management company via phone or post and make a justified decision on what the outcome of the investigation would be. This involved carefully reading documents and recognising allegations and refuting them appropriately. This position requires a lot of concentration and the ability of logical and methodical thinking.

Self-Employment

March 2016 – Apr 2017

I worked for myself building my own team. I took great initiative in learning to adapt to new situations. In this face to face position I adapted the skill of reading people and their personalities. This skill gave me the ability to build report and sell a product. I would interview potential colleagues and assess their skills and what they could bring to my team. I would organise meetings, routes and training sessions to make my team more efficient. I still use skills I learnt in this role today in efforts to persuade, sell and befriend people of all different backgrounds.
